State Income Tax Awaits Only House OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A statewide personal income tax that would raise $790 million in new money and boost state spending in almost every area headed for a House floor vote today after it squeaked through the Senate Thursday.

The bill, calling for a .5 to 3.5 per cent personal income tax and a 4 to 8 corporation income tax, was approved by the Senate 17-15.

The vote was identical to that by which a similar bill failed on the floor Nov. 22. Eleven Democrats and six Republicans voted for the latest version.

Passage of the bill marked the Senate's third attempt at gaining approval of an income tax. It defeated two income tax proposals and passed one sales tax bill.

The House approved a much larger income tax bill, 54-42, July 14, but later rejected the Senate's sales tax approach as a method of financing an estimated $8 million budget for the biennium ending July 1, 1973. The state has been without a permanent budget since July 1.

State operations have been financed since then by eight interim budgets, whose appropriations are included in the latest tax-budget measure.

"Passage of a state income tax was no surprise," said Rep. Robert Netzel, R-7 Laura, who favored a county-collected tax as an alternative. "The only people they have been appointing to conference committees were income tax advocates. They had to win one."

Republicans who opposed the tax almost unanimously blamed its passage on their own leadership, although Senate majority leader Theodore Gray, R-3 Piqua, voted against the bill.

Republicans control the House 54-45 and the Senate 20-13. House Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-4 Perrysburg, has long been an income tax advocate.

"There is no way any income tax bill could pass without the approval of the republican leadership," Sen. Robin Turner, R-14, Marion, told newsmen following the session.

Turner, during floor debate, told his colleagues, "You're going totally against what the people of this state want you do."

Here are the major provisions of the personal-corporation income tax bill passed in the Senate Thursday evening:

- Personal tax of .5 to 3.5 per cent on adjusted gross income. (Government pensions would be excluded from the tax.)
- Four per cent on the first $25,000 annual income of a corporation, plus eight per cent or five mills on the net worth of the excess, whichever is higher.
- A severance tax on miner-

- als taken from the ground to be administered as follows: 4 cents per ton on coal or salt; 1 cent per ton on limestone; 3 cents on each barrel of oil; 1 cent per thousand cubic feet of natural gas. (The $5.5 million in estimated revenues would be earmarked for environmental protection.)
- An increase from 2 to 3 mills of the tax on Ohio insurance companies.
- A boost from 2 to 3 mills of the tax on shares in capital institutions and an increase of 5 to 6 mills on the tax on intangible personal property of dealers in intangibles.

- A 3-cent additional tax on each pack of cigarettes.
- Doubling of the tax on pre-mixed alcoholic beverages from 40 to 80 cents per gallon.
- A 10 per cent across-the-board reduction in all real es-

Cloture Vote On Rehnquist Being Pushed

Confirmation Could Follow Debate Shutoff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate supporters of the Supreme Court nomination of William H. Rehnquist try today to bring the debate to a close, forcing a vote on his confirmation.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said "the vast majority of the Senate is convinced of the merits of the nominee" and believes the time to vote has come.

A two-thirds majority is required to put into effect the Senate's debate-closing rule, and the outcome of the vote set for noon appeared in doubt.

If it succeeds, there could be a vote later in the day on confirmation of Rehnquist, an assistant attorney general and former Phoenix, Ariz., lawyer. If debate is not cut off, another attempt will be made Saturday.

The debate on Rehnquist began Monday after the Senate confirmed, by an 89-1 vote, President Nixon's nomination of Richmond, Va., attorney Lewis F. Powell Jr., to fill a second vacancy on the Supreme Court.

Rehnquist, 47, was opposed by some Senate liberals who have attacked his civil-rights and civil-liberties record. But Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and other opponents have never claimed the votes to block confirmation.

In advance of the vote a dispute continued over a 1952 memorandum written for the late Justice Robert H. Jackson on the position the Supreme Court should take on school-segregation cases.

Rehnquist said Wednesday he had written it while a law clerk for Jackson. But Thursday night Scott made public a cable from another of Jackson's former clerks, Donald Cronson, saying it was probable the memorandum was more his than Rehnquist's.

The memorandum came under sharp attack from Bayh because it declared the separate-but-equal doctrine enunciated by the court in 1896 was right and should be reaffirmed.

GRATEFUL — Mrs. Brenda O'Hara (left) returns the $20 bill she found Friday morning to its owner, Mrs. Florence Redman, Route 3, Mt. Sterling.

Lost $20 Bill Returned To Owner

With Christmas music peeling, decorations everywhere and the "certain feeling" that prevades every December, Brenda O'Hara located the owner of a $20 bill she found Friday morning near The Herald office.

Brenda, who works in The Herald's circulation department, picked the money up in the middle of Court St.

Minutes before, she had noticed a Herald reporter searching the streets for something and thought he had lost the money.

He didn't, but knew who did. Owner was Mrs. Florence Redman, Route 3, Mt. Sterling. She dropped the money shortly before reporting to work at Pasquales Pizza shop.

The Herald reporter helped her search for the loose bill, but neither could find it.

Mrs. Redman called off the search, saying, "There goes my husband's Christmas present."

Wouldn't it be nice if there were more Brendas?

The bureau said the watch is for the extreme southwestern section and includes the counties of Hamilton, Butler and Preble.

India Rejects Cease-Fire

Dacca Drive Continues; Many Flee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

India reported fighting with Pakistani troops all along its western front today and claimed more steady advances by Indian forces in East Pakistan toward Dacca, the provincial capital.

Prime Minister Indir Gandhi brushed aside the United Nations call for an immediate cease-fire and declared that India would "take all steps" to achieve the independence of East Pakistan.

Pakistan said it accepted the cease-fire appeal provided that U.N. observers were stationed on both sides of the border, a condition previously rejected by India.

There were no reports on military action from Pakistan since the government radio declared Thursday night that "Indian invasion forces have been blunted on all fronts in East Pakistan and they have been dealt heavy punishment."

An Indian government spokesman in New Delhi said there was no new major action in the Chhamb sector in southwestern Kashmir, the area of greatest Pakistani penetration, "but probing attacks by troops on both sides are taking place all along the border" in Punjab and Rajasthan states.

He also reported an Indian naval task force bombarded a 300-mile stretch of West Pakistani coastline Thursday night.

Santa Claus Gets Unlisted Telephone

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — There's a bright red telephone on Santa's desk in Birmingham so parents can call and make arrangements for a Christmas Day house call at $10.

But business has been so good, Santa has had to make it an unlisted number. It seems that kids got the number and were making his work hectic.

"Santa Claus had these kids calling up every minute. I can't tell whether they're good or bad children on the phone," said Santa whose real name is Bill Todd.

Todd, 55, is a clown in circuses and fairs.

During the holidays, he dons his red suit and whiskers, sets up in a trailer at the Bloomfield Plaza shopping center and serves for one month as sort of an executive Santa for the plush suburb north of Detroit. His income is roughly $2,500 for the month, he says.

He performs the duties of most shopping center Santas, but a good chunk of the money comes from the rounds he makes on Christmas morning at $10 a visit, waking up the children and giving them their presents.

Pakistan Will Lose War, American Officials Predict

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pakistani army is in a hopeless situation in East Pakistan and cannot hold out much longer than a few days with the long-run outlook no better in the West, according to U.S. government specialists.

State Department experts also say there is no chance of the Pakistani forces, which numbered 70,000 at the outset of the war, pulling off a Dunkirk-like evacuation in the East.

They pointed out that Indian forces, said to include 12 divisions, already hold one East Pakistani port and have the main harbor at Chittagong under a tight naval blockade. Further, the Pakistani air force in the East is destroyed and a sea evacuation would be impossible without effective air cover.

Indian air superiority also rules out any chance for an air evacuation, particularly since the main airport at Dacca has been severely damaged.

The situation in the West is no more promising, at least in the long run, the U.S. experts say, although the Pakistanis are in a position to force a more extended war and even carry out limited offenses into India.

An obvious difference between the two war theaters is that the outnumbered and outgunned Pakistani army in the East is more than a thousand miles from its supply bases and is operating in a hostile territory.

Sheriff's Office Avoids Closure At Ashtabula

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) — Ashtabula County commissioners have guaranteed the payroll of the sheriff's department for December, keeping the department open.

Sheriff Ray Fasula had said that because of lack of funds to pay his deputies he planned to shut down the department Thursday. However, commissioners agreed Thursday to transfer an estimated $12,000 from next year's appropriation to meet this month's payroll.

Twenty-seven persons, including civil personnel at the county jail, are on the sheriff's payroll. The department's payroll budget for 1971 was $210,354.

Sheriff Fasula took office a month ago. The Ashtabula County Republican Central Committee named him to succeed his late father, Tom Fasula.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A move to cut off the Senate debate on the Supreme Court nomination of Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist fell short today of the required two-thirds majority.

The main body of the 365,000 man Pakistani army is in the West, and although the Indians are capable of numerical superiority in that area, Pakistan can provide the logistic and supply support to maintain a fighting ability.

But the American officials said the Indians hold all the options and even if they suffer a major defeat here and there the final outcome in the West depends almost entirely on the New Delhi government's intentions.

The U.S. experts declined to speculate on India's ultimate goals but they said the possibilities include a drive into Pakistan property to destroy the Pakistani military structure, followed by a dictated peace.

Another possibility would include capture and occupation of the major Pakistani cities and provinces with a resulting dismemberment of the nation as it now exists.

A more limited objective could be merely to force Pakistan out of the long-disputed Kashmir territory.

Reds Could Take Cambodia At Any Time, Experts Claim

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American officials in Saigon think the Cambodian army is a long way from becoming an effective fighting force, and the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong could take over the entire country if they wanted to.

Highly placed officials estimate Communist forces now control as much as 80 per cent of Cambodia and can do anything they want.

"But their goal is the defeat of South Vietnam," said one source.

"As long as the South Vietnamese have enough forces to keep the North Vietnamese out and free access to go across the border, harass them and cut off their supplies, it will be difficult for them to mount a successful invasion of Military Region 3."

Military Region 3 is the most critical of South Vietnam's four regions. It includes Saigon and 11 surrounding provinces and shares 231 miles of border with Cambodia.

According to latest intelligence estimates, there are about 80,000 enemy troops in Cambodia, and about two-thirds of them are North Vietnamese. Intelligence officers say the ultimate mission of about 60,000 of these troops is South Vietnam, the other 20,000 are support troops.

Officials in Saigon believe the enemy's mission in Cambodia now is to secure his supply lines and bases. They think his attacks on Cambodian forces are politically motivated in part, a show of strength.

"The North Vietnamese are sensitive to world opinion," says one official. "They could take Cambodia in a week if they tried, if they cut loose everything they had. But the North Vietnamese army taking over a foreign country is not a war of liberation."

"World opinion would be against a North Vietnamese takeover, a foreign invasion. But world opinion has overlooked the North Vietnamese invasion of South Vietnam because they are both Vietnamese and they can keep this in the ball park as a war of liberation. The North Vietnamese leaned heavily on this because they are associated with the Viet Cong, or the National Liberation Front, in the south."

Book By Hughes Could Be True, Associate Says

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A former top associate of billionaire recluse Howard Hughes says "there may be some authenticity" to a purported Hughes' autobiography.

The associate, Noah Dietrich, said the book could not have resulted from face-to-face interviews, as its publisher claims, but that the information could have come from Hughes in other ways.

In announcing Tuesday that it would publish the book next spring, McGraw-Hill Book Co. said it would be based on interviews with Clifford Irving held with Hughes "in various motel rooms and parked cars throughout the western hemisphere."

Dietrich said Hughes' poor health ruled out any traveling and made it impossible for Hughes to write himself.

Countywide Zoning Aired By Solons

A meeting was held in the Pickaway County Commissioners office 2 p.m. Thursday to discuss restructuring the Pickaway County Planning Committee and countywide zoning.

Present for the session were commissioners Dick T. Tootle, Wayne Hines, Charles Morris; soil conservation service technician Don Archer, Pickaway Agricultural Agent George Hamrick; Reno Robinette, representative of South Central Power; and Priscilla Steele and Kenneth Dunn, representatives of Barrett, Cargo, Withers Associates, Chillicothe.

During the discussion, it was brought out that one of the biggest problems facing the county is a lack of enforceable subdivision regulations and workable zoning laws.

The commissioners agreed that restructuring the planning committee, headed presently by Ned Harden, is the first step toward submitting a countywide zoning plan to the voters of the county.

MRS. Steele told the group that at the present there are no federal funds available for developing a county wide comprehensive master plan there are funds available for specific studies connected with planning.

The Chillicothe based consulting firm has worked with commissioners before, revising the subdivision regulations and submitting a county water and sewerage study.

Mrs. Steele and Dunn agreed with commissioners that much of study work for a comprehensive plan has already been completed and it is primarily a matter of consolidating the studies into a comprehensive plan.

Treasurer Still Seeks Tax Duties

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Treasurer Gertrude W. Donahey renewed her appeal Thursday to legislators to make the treasurer's office the collection agency for a state income tax, should one be enacted.

At a news conference, Mrs. Donahey blasted efforts to supplant the "constitutional" functions of her department.

Those functions, she said, are clear: "To receive all monies for taxes, fees, licenses and other levies enacted by the General Assembly."

Legislators are currently working on tax legislation for the biennium that would make the state Tax Commissioner the agency responsible for administration and enforcement of the tax.

Mrs. Donahey said talks with members of the conference committee on taxes had not persuaded them to change the wording of the tax bill.

But delays between collection by the tax commissioner and processing by her department could be costly ones, she says.

Hawaiian Population Shift Urged

HONOLULU (AP) — The tiny island of Oahu has lived up to its nickname of "the gathering place," but state officials are looking seriously for ways to reverse the trend.

Oahu—which includes Honolulu—has less than 10 per cent of the state's land, but 82 per cent of the people.

Gov. John A. Burns is promoting a program aimed at luring people to the less-crowded neighbor islands. He envisions new communities and college campuses as the bait.

The administration is seeking authorization for a new campus on the west coast of Hawaii island. "The big island," as natives call it, has 63 per cent of the state's land area but only 8.9 per cent of the population.

But some planners on the neighbor islands have mixed feelings about growing.

Hawaii County planner Ray Suefuji is concerned that the state will encourage rapid growth without giving his county money to provide schools, utilities, roads and other necessities for new residents.

"There is a feeling that Honolulu's problems should be Honolulu's and not the neighbor islands' problems," Suefuji said.

Tenure Opposition

Teacher tenure laws no longer are the untouchable political ground they once were. In the 46 states in which such laws are on the books, they are under attack increasingly for almost the identical reason they were passed.

Tenure laws protect a teacher who has worked for a few years from being fired, except usually in cases involving moral turpitude. There is seldom any provision for removing teachers who simply don't measure up in the classroom.

More than a dozen state legislatures this year worked on various provisions for modifying or eliminating tenure laws. School boards and administrators increasingly are speaking out against the hands-tied position they find themselves in when dealing with incompetency in the profession.

Thus, the law which was passed to prevent teachers from being hired or fired almost on a patronage basis now is being condemned as creating a situation just as bad, perhaps worse.

The National School Boards Association found a majority of school board members and administrators would like to see tenure abolished in a recent poll.

The association notes there are ways of getting around tenure as far as the incompetent teacher is concerned, such as "kicking them upstairs" to a central office or counseling position. That is no solution. The real test lies in recognizing the teaching gifts or lack of them in an individual.

Any system which merely categorizes all teachers — good and bad, inspiring and unenthusiastic — alike is no system at all. It becomes a convenient excuse for avoiding responsibility.

"Well, who won the Mud Bowl game this year?"

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street thrives on opinions, often valuing them more than facts. It's own opinion of itself, the public's opinion about business, business' opinion of the future.

Following are reports on each: Gerald M. Loeb, one of the grand old men of the securities business, author of two investment classics, "The Battle for Investment Survival" and "The Battle for Stock Market Profits," broker, investor, wit, is also a man of strong opinions.

For years he has been giving advice and a lot of people have profited by it. But day in and day out the advice business sometimes is trying. When you are uncertain you cannot admit to confusion, but sometimes your forecasts are so obviously hedged that they give you away.

"We're all guilty of it," says Loeb. "Anybody who gives advice knows how difficult it is to give good advance regularly—and to accept it."

This holiday season Loeb has decided to send a greeting card that, well, sort of looks into next year. It's theme is a Zodiac containing advice for all investors.

It begins with a general greeting. "A Good And Adverse Year" it says in language as straightforward as that sometimes used by astrologers and investment advisers.

"I do not believe in astrology," Loeb says, but confesses, "one wonders if it can be any worse than the boondoggling that goes on in Wall Street. The gobbledygook of market advisers seems no different from those of the astrologer."

For those born under the sign of Taurus he advises that "Dialing a wrong number when calling your broker is desirable." And for Aries: "Investment decisions made while in the shower can bring possible profit."

Aquarians are informed that "Discussions can be enlightening if ignored." Scorpions people may develop clots in the veins of their legs, unusual retention of fluid and irregular patterns of menstrual bleeding. Only recently stomach and intestinal side effects have been reported. This may perhaps apply to you.

The oral contraceptive, like any new drug taken for the first time, must be watched for the possibility of side effects. If any unusual symptom occurs, it is wise to stop the drug immediately and consult your physician. In instances such as yours, it is rather simple to learn if there is a relationship between your discomfort and the pill by immediately stopping its use.

My daughter's breasts are unequally developed. She is 16 and is embarrassed. Can this be a permanent condition?

Mrs. S.G., Ia.
Dear Mrs. G.: In most instances, the underdeveloped breast will approximate the size of the other unless there is some anatomical or hormone malfunction.

A Source Of Pride To Grandparents

HOUSTON (AP) — A Wisconsin researcher says the role of the grandchild in our society is significant because the child is a source of pride and comfort to his grandparents.

Dr. Vivian Wood of the School of Social Work, University of Wisconsin, says she arrived at this conclusion after making studies of 257 grandparents.

Escape To, Not From, City

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
My columnistic colleague Tom Wicker, whom I read with a sort of fascinated horror because of his ability to spend practically all of his waking hours standing waist-deep in a pool of tears, has capped it all by apologizing for enjoying a holiday weekend on Nantucket. Well, it's come to a pretty pass if a man can't take a three-day Thanksgiving vacation without using it as an excuse for knocking suburbanites (the overwhelming majority in modern America) for being "escapists." As a suburbanite of long standing who still sees a lot of the city for business reasons, I deny that I moved to the country to get away from "humankind." Indeed, it was an opposite impulse that led me to desert a New York City residence way back in the Thirties.

The original attraction of big city life, Mr. Wicker should perhaps be told, was that it afforded an escape from the duties of neighborliness. You could live for years in a city apartment without knowing anybody below you or above you. The city enabled you to be as clique-dominated as you wanted. When I lived in New York City's Greenwich Village I saw nobody but artistic escapees from the common life, including reporters whose liberalism was a matter of rhetoric. Later living in Washington D.C., I grew tired of the thin gruel that one derived from talking to people whose sole interest was politics.

It is a great mistake to think you are any closer to the "blacks and the poor" (Mr. Wicker's chief concern) if you spend your time bicycling from a Georgetown residence in the District of Columbia to the National Press Club, or to Capitol Hill. And the apartment dweller in Tudor City on Manhattan Island knows less about Harlem or Bedford-Stuyvesant than the average commuter who, on occasion, may drive through an outer fringe of slum to get to his downtown destination.

The reason my generation deserted the big city on anything more than a commuting basis was our growing distaste for a compartmentalized life. We weren't fleeing the "blacks and the poor," for the blacks hadn't moved in yet and the poor, relatively speaking, were ourselves. In the suburbs or the "exurbs" we found a community life that was far more variegated and human than anything below Fourteenth Street in Manhattan or in Joe Alsop's Georgetown in Washington.

In New York, the like-minded huddle together, intellectuals with intellectuals, bankers with bankers. In Washington you don't know that factories belch smoke. But in the smaller community there is still at least something of de Tocqueville's America, with a plethora of overlapping organizations that include representatives of all trades and classes. There is more diversity, ethnic and otherwise, to the fathers that show up to watch a small community Little League baseball game than you'd encounter in a month of Sundays in an average big city group.

In the city contact with tradesmen and service people is impersonal; in the smaller community Little League plumber, your electrician, your Fuller brush salesman. It was not the suburbanites who created the big city condition that Wicker abhors. The blame should be saddled on the very governmental philosophy that Mr. Wicker, in his benighted way, counts on to undo the harm it has been doing for a generation and more. The reason the blacks huddle in big city tenements is that New Deal farm subsidy payments permitted the bigger agriculturalists to tractor the field hands off the land at an accelerated pace.

Union centralization, encouraged by the laws, kept factories from spreading to local points where they could absorb displaced ruralists. The legal abrogation of residence clauses for relief has completed the rout; it lures "the blacks and the poor" to the slum areas that would have long since been torn down if the politicians had permitted America to decentralize in a normal way.

As Mr. Wicker puts it, there's no place to hide from the human race. However, one can make a passable attempt by seeking anonymity or herd-mindedness in a big city enclave.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. In order to be considered for publication, they must bear the correct name and address of the writer. Anonymous letters and those signed with the request that signatures be withheld will not be accepted for publication. Dear Editor:

On Dec. 7, 1941, a force of about 150 Japanese bombers and torpedo-carrying planes launched a surprise attack on Pearl Harbor, the chief U.S. Naval base in the Pacific. Hits were scored on several naval craft lying at anchor in the harbor and two battleships, the Oklahoma and the Arizona were sunk.

Other military objectives on the island, including Hickam Field, U.S. Army Air Base, were attacked and considerable damage was done. The casualties amounted to 4,500, 2,300 of which were fatal. Later in the day a formal declaration of war against America and Great Britain was made.

That America and Great Britain emerged victorious in that war is a matter of history. For many in this community it is not necessary to peruse the pages of history for accounts of what happened during that war. Their memories serve them well because they took an active part in it. There are many here who still experience pangs of grief for those loved ones who gave their lives in that conflict in the South Pacific.

Asleep in Soldiers Glen at Forrest Cemetery lie some of those who many of us knew in life. The memory of those I knew who lie there was greatly refreshed as I strolled among the humble gravestones a couple of days ago. The tendency to shed a tear while doing so was overcome by an overpowering feeling of pride and respect for those to whom so much is owed.

Butler County Levies Rejected

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The defeat of school levies in the Fairfield, Ohio and Edgewood (Trenton) school districts Thursday left the Butler County systems without hope of gaining new funds before 1973.

Officials at both schools, which had also lost levies Nov. 2, said no new tax increases could be proposed before 1972 and no new taxes could be collected before 1973.

Voters defeated Fairfield's five-mill levy 2,062-1,364 and Edgewood's went down 817-715. They asked for 2.75 mills.

Fairfield had asked the increase to open a new elementary school now under construction and establish a district-wide kindergarten.

The court handled 682 criminal case filings and completed 645 cases.

There were 15 civil cases filed during the month and 12 completed. Three marriages were performed by the court.

There were 25 small claims cases filed and 28 completed.

Grandma Hardman came up from Chillicothe on Monday and we spent the day making pounds and pounds. Take 2 cups white sugar, 2 teaspoons corn starch, 1/4 teaspoon salt and mix together well. Now add 1 cup milk and cook until soft ball forms (when tested in cold water) stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and add vanilla, 2 tablespoons butter and 1/2 cup peanut butter. Beat and pour onto buttered plate or shallow pan. Cut into squares. Nuts are optional.

Man Slays Wife, Self

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A counseling room of the Montgomery County Court of Domestic Relations was the scene Thursday of an apparent murder-suicide.

Witnesses said James L. McCoy pulled a handgun, shot his wife, then turned the weapon on himself during a counseling session at the court.

McCoy was pronounced dead at the scene from a bullet wound in the neck. His wife, Ruth Ann McCoy, was declared dead on arrival at Miami Valley Hospital. She had reportedly been shot twice—once in the head, and once in the back.

Mrs. McCoy had been living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Winkle of Vandalia, a Dayton suburb.

The dead couple had a daughter, Melissa, 2.

Death at any time is difficult to accept but during the holiday season it always seems doubly difficult and the community is deeply distressed at the passing of Mr. Thurman See. Sincere sympathy is extended to his wife, Helen, and his two sons, Johnny and Bob.

Many folks in town are "all shook up" that two more citizens have been involved in an accident at the Routes 22 and 104 junction. Jay Seaburn and son Steve (who is home from college for Christmas vacation) were clobbered because of the 104 driver's failure to observe the stop sign. In the past year a number of our residents have been injured at this crossing. What can be done? Something must be — and soon!

It is amazing the early birds with Christmas decorations this year. Down the road to Woodlyn finds Marvie baby and Dolly gaily a-glow and the Bob Smiths are very, very well done (lights, that is). The Hastings have a neat doorway and Pete and Pearl Cochenour have the pretty lights and candles.

Mary Picklesimer's home with the blue lights, decorated trellis archway and blue cross is very effective. Curt and Millie Keller have Santa and the Reindeer out this year which will please our Amy — this is one she calls her "specially favorite." Jim and Norma Cochenour have their entire house outlined in lights and is seen from several angles in town. Oscar and Rosie Atwood's home is one in the prize winning area and right next door the Bill Rhinesmith's have used the blue and green lighting arrangement that is most attractive.

Earl and Maxine Lanman have a pretty way with their front porch and Mrs. Viola Myers has her front yard tree all multi-colored which is so pleasing to the eye. Albert and Wanda Jackson are among the first to display the lights of the season, too. Neighbor Kate Sollars has an outstanding Christmas card effect display. Many more will be added to the ever growing list as the big day draws nigh.

Tickers can still be purchased for the John Drummond Benefit Smorgasbord to be held Sunday, Dec. 12 at Westfall High School. Serving will begin at 12 noon and continue until 3 p.m. More fried chickens are needed in case anyone has been missed in the soliciting and desire to give. Some folks have not been contacted because of inability to be reached by phone.

Thought for the week: There will be no light of hope in the streets unless it first flickers in the hearts of men; And no riches will imbue the outward land till men become first enriched within.

9 Policemen Are Indicted In Memphis Negro Death

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A black sheriff's lieutenant, two sheriff's patrolmen and a city police officer have been indicted on first-degree murder charges in the beating death of a black teenager.

The Shelby County grand jury also indicted four other policemen on charges of assault to murder and a police inspector with neglect of duty. The indictments were returned Thursday.

All but the sheriff's lieutenant are white and all have been released on bond.

The indictments stem from the fatal beating Oct. 15 of Elton Hayes, 17, who died after he and two companions were arrested following a police auto chase. His death was blamed for five days of racial violence here.

Police had reported that Hayes died from injuries received when the pickup truck in which he was a passenger ran into a ditch. But an autopsy report said he died from two blows to the head.

Sheriff Roy C. Nixon, his voice cracking and eyes filled with tears, told a news conference that Lt. Theodore R. Wilks, 38, and two of his patrolmen had been charged with first-degree murder. The patrolmen are Edward M. Bonham, 24, and Johnny L. Roberts, 23.

Memphis Patrolman Michael J. Dougherty also was charged with first-degree murder.

Charged with assault to murder are policemen William L. Graves, James B. Dyer, Larry R. Skelton and Danny L. Davis, who were released on $2,500 bond.

Bond for those charged with murder was set at $10,000.

Police Inspector Harold Ray was charged with neglect of duty and released on bond of $500.

The indictments climaxed a two-month investigation by the district attorney's office and three days of testimony before a jury of ten whites and three blacks.

Miss Deborah Jane Stinard Bride Of George R. Dumm

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE R. DUMM

Miss Deborah Jane Stinard and Mr. George Robert Dumm exchanged wedding vows 3:30 p.m., Nov. 21 in Laurel Hills United Methodist Church. The Rev. Francis Huber performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Stinard and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Winford Dumm, both of Route 1, Laurelville.

Vases of bronze chrysanthemums and yellow gladioli, palms and candelabra graced the altar. Pumpkin colored candles and fall leaves decorated the windows.

Mrs. Roger Egan, organist, presented a half hour of sacred wedding selections and Miss Marabelle Higgins, vocalist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Mr. Stinard gave his daughter in marriage. She was in a floor length gown of ivory lace. The empire styled bodice featured a high neckline and long full sleeves ending in bridal points over her hands. Lace daisy petals trimmed the neckline and sleeves. The bride's lace trimmed mantilla was shoulder length. Her flowers were yellow mums on a wide orange velvet ribbon worn on her wrist and she carried a white Bible.

Miss Martha Dumm, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a pumpkin colored floor length skirt and ivory blouse. Miss Kimberly Stinard, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She wore an avocado colored floor length skirt and ivory blouse. Both wore winter white crocheted shawls, gifts from the bride and made by her grandmother. They carried baskets with streamers filled with yellow mums, dried fall flowers and leaves. Ring bearer was Master Randall Hunt, cousin of the bride.

Mr. Larry Fulkerson performed the duties of best man. Mr. Roger Egan and Mr. Robert Swepton were ushers.

Mrs. Stinard selected for her daughter's wedding a beige dress of polyester knit trimmed with matching lace. Around her shoulders she wore a brown crocheted shawl.

Mrs. Dumm was attired in

Mrs. Josie Seymour thanked members for the cards received while she was hospitalized. Mrs. Harry Smith thanked the club for its assistance while she was regional director the past two years and also for the ceramic frog they presented to her.

Mrs. Frank E. Smith judged the gift wrappings with each using a pine cone. Mrs. Vonna Rasor won first place. Mrs. Russell Beckett, second; Mrs. John O'Day, third and Mrs. Herman Porter, fourth. Following a gift exchange several members found lucky numbers hidden under their coffee cups and were presented gifts.

The January meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Bruce Cochran with Mrs. Laura Henry, Mrs. Elizabeth Rodgers and Mrs. Marie Hott assisting hostesses.

The group plans to go caroling on Friday, Dec. 17 and will visit a rest home, and then go to the home of their advisors, Mr. and Mrs. James Daft for gift exchange and hot chocolate.

Storm System Brings Warm Air To U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A storm system over the western Gulf Coast and southern Midwest brought rain, drizzle and unseasonably warm temperatures to much of the nation's midsection today.

Light rain or snow was also reported in the Northeast and in the Pacific Northwest.

The storm system, which began intensifying rapidly early today, brought flash flood warnings to southern Missouri, where up to two inches of rain was expected.

Unusually warm and humid air streaming north from the storm system brought rain and drizzle as far as the northern Midwest.

West of the Mississippi, colder than normal temperatures were the general rule, with frost warnings posted for southern Arizona and a new Arctic air mass moving into Montana with sub-zero readings.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 10 degrees at Rock Springs, Wyo., to 78 at Brownsville, Tex., and Key West, Fla.

The National Weather Service forecasts widespread precipitation for today, with light rain and showers stretching from Georgia and southeast Texas to Wisconsin and Vermont. Snow flurries were predicted from Lake Superior through the northern Great Plains to eastern Washington and northern Arizona. Showers were expected on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Clytus Fausnaugh, Circleville, Gilbert Hedges and Vera Van Cleve, Amanda.

On Sunday evening, Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m., the Pathfinders' Class of the Methodist Church will have their Christmas meeting and gift exchange at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spung.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith (Linda Murray) Adelphi, who are parents of a baby daughter, born on Saturday at Berger Hospital. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Letha Murray and paternal grandmother is Mrs. Walter Griffith.

Also congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garrett (Janice Hartley) who are parents of a baby son, born on Sunday at Berger Hospital. Maternal grandparents are Richard and Marcine Hartley, Gibsonville R.R., who were formerly Tarlton residents.

Twenty-two members and eight guests were present when the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Tarlton United Methodist Church met for their annual Christmas meeting on Wednesday.

The social room of the Church was decorated in keeping with the holiday season when the carry-in lunch was served at 12:30. After the gift exchange and revealing of mystery sisters, devotions were led by Mrs. Orley Judy, who read the Christmas story from the second chapter of Luke. Christmas carols were sung and Mrs. Judy closed the devotions with prayer.

Mrs. Lloyd Spung conducted the business meeting during which the program books for the coming year were distributed.

The society received a photo and thank you note from their Korean orphan. Names were drawn for mystery sisters for the coming year.

The next meeting will be Jan. 5, with Mrs. Albert Spangler and Mrs. Joe Jenkins as hostesses.

Mrs. Charles Culbertson wishes to thank all her friends, neighbors and relatives for the beautiful cards, flowers, gifts and prayers she received while a patient in Lancaster Hospital.

Israel Set To Reject U.N. Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban goes before the General Assembly today to reject an African resolution which in effect calls for Israel to pledge withdrawal from occupied Egyptian territory.

The Soviet Union meanwhile accused Communist China and the United States of blocking peace in the Middle East.

The African resolution, drafted with Egyptian participation, calls for a reactivation of the special U.N. peace mission of Gunnar Jarring, who last February asked Israel to couple a pledge of troop withdrawal with an Egyptian pledge to reach a peace agreement. Israel refused.

Eban notified assembly aides he would reply to the African proposal today, and an Israeli spokesman told newsmen the resolution was "unacceptable as a basis for resuming the Jarring talks." He said it differed in "letter and spirit" from a proposal made by four African heads of state who recently visited Egypt and Israel.

"The original African memorandum would unlock the Jarring negotiation," the spokesman said. "This resolution would perpetuate the 10-month deadlock which is the opposite of what the African mission desired to do."

Israeli sources charged that Egyptian pressure prevented the report from reaching the General Assembly. They said it called for renewal of the Jarring mission without prior conditions, negotiations between Egypt and Israel and withdrawal from Egyptian territory as part of a final settlement.

PORTER'S

Textured Carpet Cleaned
Better By New Process

The style now in carpeting is light-colored, textured, looped, twisted, or sculptured deep pile. For many years the trend has been away from short yarns in dark colors. The new carpets are beautiful but cleaning is important. They lose their beauty when they become matted. Dirt is difficult to remove from the textured fibers and deep pile. Also the light colors need repeated cleanings.

A new process was needed for cleaning in the home. Through the cooperation of leading professional rug cleaners such a process has now been perfected.

It consists of a cleaning compound and an electric brush designed especially for dry-cleaning textured carpeting in the home. Not an adaptation of electric polishers or scrubbers, there's no other machine remotely like this.

It brushes the pile upward—removing deep dirt, correcting matting, and reviving texture. The compound contains millions of tiny sponges which are whisked back and forth through the nap by the electric brush. The job is completed without dust, dangerous fumes, or inflammable material. Since the carpet is not wet, rooms can be used instantly. This process can be used on all fibers—wool, cotton, rayon, nylon, dynel, viscose, Acrilan, Caprolan and others.

If you love the soft beautiful texture of new clean carpeting, insist on Host cleaning. Have our skilled, courteous, uniformed men do the work. Or you can save by Host cleaning it yourself. We will rent you an electric brush and supply the same compound as we use. Phone for complete information. No obligation. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Smoking-Cancer Link Strengthened

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two scientists say they have found "the first hard evidence" that the potent cancer-causing agent DMN is formed by burning certain types of tobacco and is contained in some cigarette smoke.

Their findings were published in the current issue of the American Chemical Society's publication Chemical and Engineering News.

The chemists, Dr. Donald E. Johnson and John W. Rhoades, said they found DMN, dimethylnitrosamine, in smoke condensates in amounts "roughly proportional to the nitrogen content of the soil in which the tobacco was grown."

The report did not name the brands of cigarettes studied.

Nixon Sends Pension Plan To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — An administration plan designed to make it cheaper and safer to save for old age comes under scrutiny in Congress Thursday.

In a special message to Congress Wednesday, President Nixon asked approval of pension reforms which he said would "do a great deal to protect the rights of the average American during his working years and enhance the quality of his life when he has retired."

The President's proposal would:

—Allow workers to claim tax deductions for up to 20 per cent or $1,500, whichever is less, of the amount contributed annually to a pension fund.

—Permit self-employed persons who set up pension plans for themselves and their employees to increase deductions to $7,500 or 15 per cent of income, whichever is less.

—Set up a system aimed at protecting a worker's pension claim in a company retirement plan although he might leave the company before retirement age.

The system, called "vesting," would operate under a "rule of 50," guaranteeing an employee 50 per cent of his accrued pension benefits at the time his age and years of participation in the pension plan equalled 50.

For example, an employee who began contributions at the age of 30 would, at the age of 40, be guaranteed half his pension benefits upon retirement, although he might quit or be fired from his job and cease his contributions.

He would receive another 10 per cent vesting for each succeeding year of contributions after hitting the 50 mark.

Christmas Tree Taken From Yard

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. W. L. Minor looked out her window Wednesday morning to gaze at her beautifully decorated 15-foot cedar Christmas tree.

Only it wasn't there on the front lawn.

Someone had sawed it down and taken it away.

Mrs. Minor, who said she heard no noise during the night, was left only with a six-inch stump.

Baptist Training Manual Sparks Controversy

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Some white Christians find it hard to worship with other races. They may close their churches to others. A few white people actually feel superior to other races." But "brothers in Christ stand equal in God's sight."

This is a small excerpt from a voluminous printed but guardedly shelved training quarterly for youths that has become an explosive question mark among Southern Baptists.

The last-hour banning of its distribution a month ago has aroused one of the sharpest upheavals of reaction in the history of 11.5-million-member, mainly white Southern communion, the largest in U.S. Protestantism.

Although officials of the denomination's Sunday School Board declined to make public the textual material after stopping its distribution, a check of a privately obtained copy shows it indirectly supports racial integration in churches.

And that seems to be why it was blocked, although reasons previously given were indefinite, such as "subject to misinterpretation" and "potentially inflammatory."

"The material promotes integration in churches, and this is not our job," a spokesman for the board said in a telephone interview. "It's not appropriate under Baptist policy, which leaves such matters to individual congregations."

Zeroing in on that specific issue, the California State Baptist Convention, in criticizing the board's action, demanded that it make publicly clear its position "on race relations and its belief in integration."

That question—whether the church's national agencies should advocate integration in local congregations—may become a major issue at the denomination's convention next year in the wake of the current dispute.

Three years ago, at their convention in Houston, Tex., Southern Baptists declared they would "welcome to the fellowship of faith and worship every person irrespective of race or class."

Since then, however, some attitudes have stiffened, particularly over school busing.

The Sunday School Board, which publishes most teaching material, has avoided pressing for a specific open-door policy, the board spokesman said, since congregations are free to determine their own practices on it.

"We lay down the principles by which individuals should be respectful of other races and be reconciled to their brothers, but we don't draw the conclusion that they necessarily should belong to the same church," he said.

"That's not within our prerogative. We have to acknowledge that this remains in the hands of individual churches."

A few of the 34,000 Southern Baptist congregations still have constitutional requirements limiting members of whites. While most do not, they remain predominantly white. Some now include a trickle of black members—only a few are thoroughly integrated.

Although Southern-based, the denomination has congregations in all 50 states. Often, attempts at admitting black members lead to firing of ministers, as occurred last month at Due West, S. C., Baptist Church.

Meanwhile, as controversy swirled over the 140,000 training quarterlies and 18,000 teachers' guides that were locked up in a Nashville warehouse and replaced with revised material, the Southern Baptist social-concerns agency, the Christian Life Commission, met this week.

It was expected to urge an open-door interracial policy by congregations.

As for the gently worded teaching material itself, it implicitly supports church integration, but not explicitly. It cites Scriptures calling for interpersonal love and respect and saying all people and races "are one in Christ Jesus."

Outside the church, the text says, there are definite color differences, but in the church, "God drives a new lesson deep into our hearts" that makes Christians "all the same color."

Wrestler Now Santa Claus For Children In Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Jolly Jim Dean, an 825-pound wrestler turned Santa Claus, has converted his log cabin home into a toy factory.

With the help of neighbors, "Man Mountain" Dean is repairing cast-off toys for underprivileged children this Christmas.

Fifteen year ago Dean packed in 150,000 sports fans a night to show off his famed airplane spin and made up to $20,000 performance as professional wrestler.

Now he lives in an unpretentious log cabin that was once a buffalo ranch and spends his time repairing toys.

"Broken dolls, games, you name it, it's here," said the 52-year-old Dean. "Toys in the kitchen, bedroom, living room." When he dons the familiar red and white outfit to make holiday appearances, kids just know it's Kris Kringle.

"They say I've got to be the real Santa. They even lift my coat to see if it's all me," he said in a booming voice.

"Four other Santas could fit into one suit for me," he added. The most unusual Christmas request Dean has received was for a wheel chair for a child's brother.

"We got it. We begged and pleaded with merchants. And we got it," Dean said.

Dean said he has always enjoyed helping needy children and since his retirement has devoted much of his time to them. He lives on income from Ocala Caverns, a tourist attraction.

In his sunshine workshop he sits on a throne—a specially made wooden chair bound in leather.

Come Christmas Eve he will forego the reindeer for wheels—a car reinforced with 4-by-4s.

Pickaway Grange

SALT CREEK VALLEY GRANGE

Gifts, prizes, food and fun were enjoyed by all present when Salt Creek Valley Grange met Tuesday for the Christmas Party and carry-in supper. Nineteen members and three guests were present.

Lecturer Paul Dunkle assisted by Cindy and Don Minor as Santa's helpers presented a delightful program.

The singing of Christmas Carols intertwined with contests and games kept all present in a delightful Christmas Spirit. Readings were:

"Tis the Season To Be Frantic," by Esther Collins; "What Is Christmas," by Becky Timmons; "The Christmas Tree I Pine For," by Wilma Fraunfelder.

The lecturer concluded his program with a candle lighting service to honor both deceased and living grange members and the singing of "Silent Night."

A gift exchange followed the program. The next meeting will be Jan. 4 with members bringing their favorite hobby for a "show and tell" program.

smaller federal aid improvement projects also will be opened at the session.

December 15 is Bill of Rights Day. Ratification of the Bill by an Act of Congress took place in 1791. In the past 180 years, the American citizenry has stood squarely on its principles, or has it? Today's column mentions books which have some bearing on our freedom today.

"Social Equality: the challenge of Today" carries the authority of an outstanding figure. Rudolf Dreikurs, M.D. was an associate of Alfred Adler and is Professor Emeritus of the Chicago Medical School. His book is a major statement of faith in the democratic tradition.

U.S. News and World Report, read with regularity by millions, has published "U.S. Politics — Inside and Out."

Politics, big business by any criteria, is actually controlled by three per cent of the people. These are the kingmakers, the personality merchandisers who work largely behind the scenes. Readers who want "inside" information on Washington will enjoy this one. Somewhat similar is "To the Victor" by Martin and Susan Tolchin. More chatty and informal than the U.S. News book, it follows some of the same paths.

Will we continue to keep our personal freedoms as the population explodes? Dean Fraser of Indiana University analyzes approaching problems in "The People Problem". While this is a thought-provoking book, its conclusions are hopeful.

In a perfectly delightful volume William H. Marnell writes of "The Good Life of Western Man". He begins with ancient Greece, but he brings his thoughts right up to the present. Arnold Toynbee sums up Marnell's philosophy, saying, "a human being's life is good in so far as he spends it on serving other people".

Teamsters Union Elects President

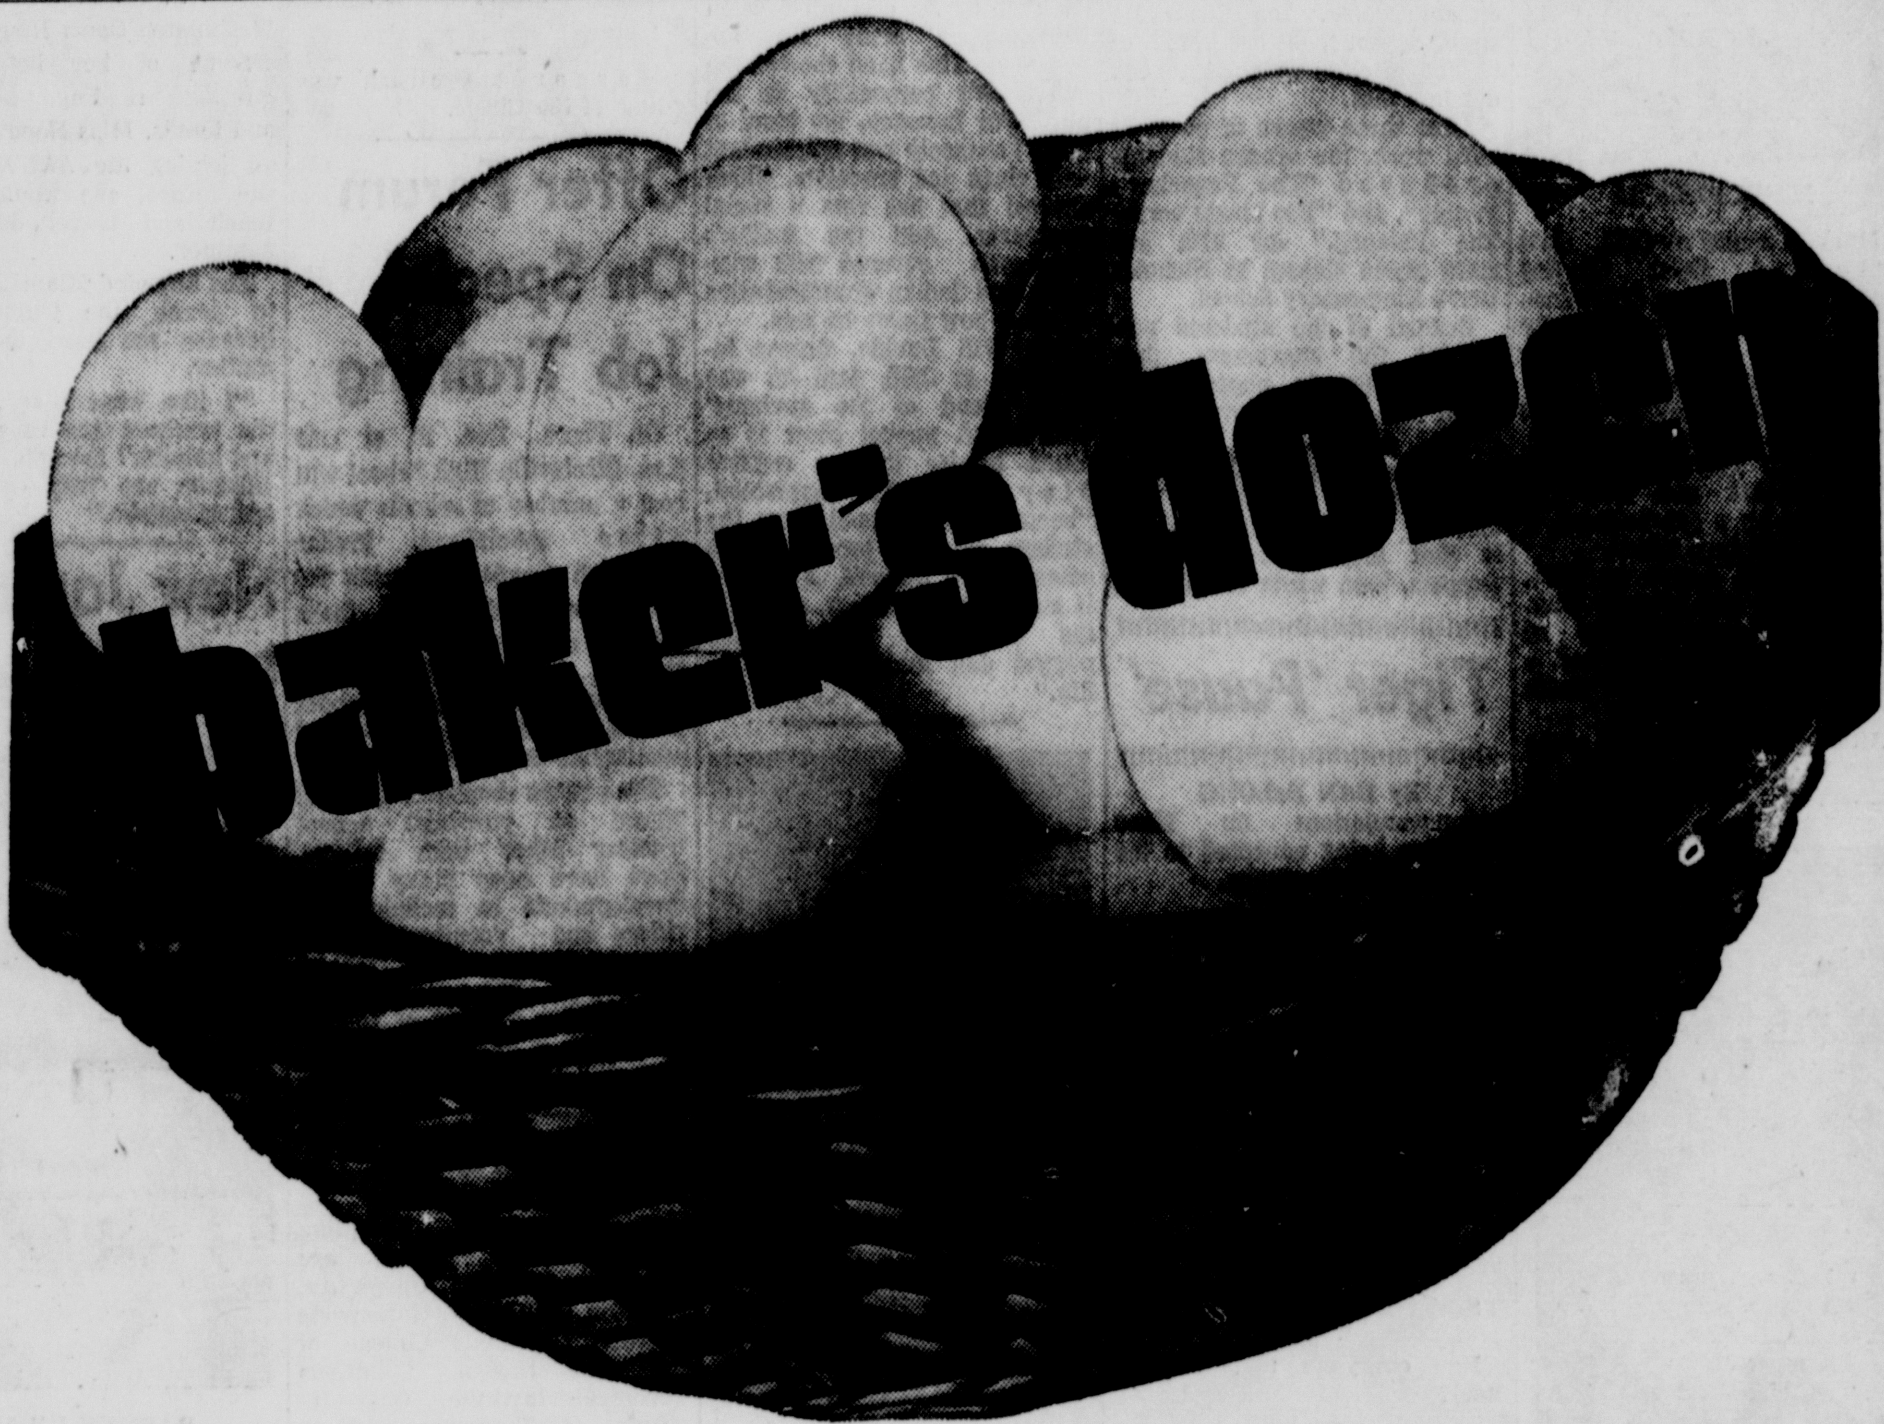

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jurlin Davis, who said he campaigned to bring control back to the membership, has been elected president of Teamsters Union Local 100.

Davis, and over-the-road driver, defeated incumbent Ira Farmer 2,107-1,711. The totals still must be validated by the union elections committee.

OHIO CASH GRAIN
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Department of Agriculture cash grain prices:

No. 2 red wheat mostly 2 to 3 cents higher, 1.40-1.50, mostly 1.44-1.46; No. 2 yellow corn mostly 2 cents higher, 95-1.06, mostly 1.03-1.08; No. 2 oats mostly unchanged, 67-75, mostly 70-75; soybeans mostly 1 to 2 cents lower, 2.90-3.01, mostly 2.95-3.00.

strong police force? In "Law without Order" Bernard Lande Cohen makes a strong case for capital punishment. He asks for the repeal of the Fifth Amendment. On the opposite side is William A. Westley, who calls for sociological approaches to crime and its perpetrations. He believes that police should become involved in their communities, and that confrontations should be avoided.

"Eleven, twelve and one more for a baker's dozen," said my grandma, counting out eggs for a customer. "It'll be 'found gold' for her!" And she smiled as she bustled about the shop.

Even then, as a child, I knew that Grandma was the "found gold" for all who knew her — always giving more than was expected, cheerfully looking for ways to gladden those whose lives touched hers.

Today I know that Grandma's strength was of the spirit. The teachings of her church gave purpose to her life. She lived her creed joyously, demonstrating vividly for all around her the vitality and richness of the Christian life.

Today, in a world that sometimes seems dark with selfishness and greed, each of us needs to realize and utilize the spiritual resources of his church as a necessity of life.

Brother And Sister Enroll At Circleville

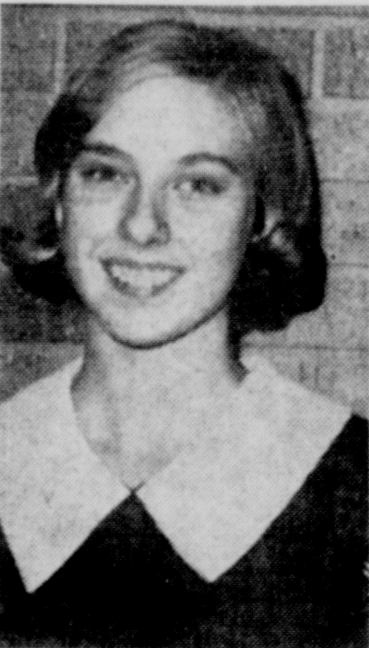

By LISA WILLIAMS
New to CHS, but not to Circleville, are Mark and Marcia Plescia.
Mark and Marcia reside at 240 Edwards Road with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Plescia and two younger brothers. Both Mark and Marcia had previously attended parochial schools.

MARK PLESCIA

Mark, a senior at CHS, last attended Saint Charles Preparatory School in Columbus. There he was active in Liturgy Committee, National Honor Society, Drama Club and YCS. Mark's main interest lies in playing and studying the organ. He recently played the organ in a concert and was accompanied by a zymbelstern, a medieval bell instrument.
Here, he is active in NHS, In the Know, and Library Club. He is also a member of Roundtown Players and had a part in the play "South Pacific."

After graduation Mark plans to go to college and major in philosophy or theology and minor in music.

MARCIA PLESCIA

Marcia is a new sophomore at CHS, and she last attended Bishop Flaget in Chillicothe. Marcia listed swimming, bike-riding and taking walks in summer as some of her favorite hobbies. Here, she is a member of the sophomore SOS.
When asked how she felt about CHS, she replied, "I find the students real friendly here." After graduation Marcia would also like to attend college.

Circleville Faces 2nd League Game

By KENT WOLFE and DON VALENTINE
There will be a lot of action in the county this weekend as all of the schools except Westfall have two games.
Circleville will be busy Friday night hosting Hillsboro in the second league game of the season. The Indians will badly miss the presence of center Don Jewett who broke his arm last week. After a disappointing loss to Miami Trace last weekend, the Tigers should be able to bounce back and scalp the Indians.
Saturday night the Tigers travel to meet the Hamilton

Puppet Program Of Drama Club Enjoyed By Youngsters

By CRAIG ALLISON
Drama, whether it be tragedy or comedy, is designed to entertain people. And Circleville High School can be proud of its drama class which last week did just that.
After three weeks of constant hard work, the drama students produced "The Preacher's People," and "The pirate verses The Phlaug." for fifth and sixth grade classes at Nicholas Drive Elementary School.
Instead of the students portraying the characters, they used homemade puppets that could be slipped over their hands. And another unusual feature of the plays that shows the creative talents of Circleville High School students is that they first made the puppets, then wrote the play so Township Rangers, The Rangers are led by a new coach and are said to be a much improved team, but the Tigers should be able to bring home another victory.

In the county, Westfall will lose its only game of the weekend to Unioto. On Friday night Logan Elm will take Adena and Teays Valley will take Franklin Heights. The Braves and the Vikings will meet in a thriller Saturday night with the Vikings coming out on top.

Offer Forum On Special Job Training

On Thurs., Dec. 16, at 1:30 p.m. Circleville High School will host a number of schools which offer specialized higher education programs. During the two hour period that these schools' representatives will be present, students will have the opportunity to learn about program offerings, costs, and admissions requirements.

Since more emphasis is being placed on post-high school training other than college, there have been many recent developments in technical institute and vocational school training. More students will be exposed to the program offerings of a variety of schools by having a daytime program. Parents and recent graduates are encouraged to attend this afternoon program to learn about programs of their interest.

Among schools accepting invitations to attend are Columbus Business University, Franklin University, Nationwide Schools, Columbus College of Art and Design, Columbus Technical Institute, Ohio Institute of Technology, Clark County Technical Institute, Muskingum Area Technical Institute, Ohio State Barber College, Andrew-Columbus Barber College, Ohio State School of Cosmetology, Columbus Drafting College, Electronic Computer Programming Institute, MATA College, Columbus Community Career College, Victor Business Schools, RETS Electronic Institute, New York Technical Institute, and National School of Heavy Equipment Operation.

Similar programs are being sponsored at Logan Elm High School at 9 a.m., Thurs., Dec. 16, and Teays Valley High School on Fri. Dec. 17, at 9 a.m. Guidance Counselors of these high schools are coordinating this project.

Music At Games Is Performed By Stage Band

By DAN DELONG

Psst — Circleville has a stage band — Pass it on.

Have you noticed the pre-game warm-up routine to the tune of "Sweet Georgia Brown." That is the stage band playing it. The stage band may take a back seat to the basketball team because people come to see a basketball game instead of a concert, but when they play the band captures all the audience with their dynamic sound.

The stage band is gaining a reputation for its fine performances at Pumpkin Show, basketball games, pep assemblies, and band concerts. The trade mark of the band is its music. The stage band plays a variety of modern music and soul-rock which identifies it from other bands. Many songs feature solos by the fantastic Rick Sabine on the drums, dynamic Dave Winner on trombone, band director Gary Dean on tenor saxophone, and the classic "Doc" Lackey on trumpet.

The band started as an offshoot of the concert band though the practices are after school and in the evening on the members' "free time."

So tonight come on out to the game with Hillsboro and see the game but listen to the music.

Mom Courting Disaster For Daughter

DEAR ABBY: I have a 27-year-old daughter who is no raving beauty, but she is a lot better looking than most of the girls whose pictures you see in bridal veils in the Sunday papers. She is very intelligent and has a lot of dates, and I know she has turned down several good marriage proposals.

When I ask her what she is waiting for, she says "Don't rush me, Mom."
Is there any way I can get her to hurry up and think seriously of marrying and settling down? I am 50 years old and would like to see a few grandchildren before I leave this earth.

When I ask her what she is waiting for, she says "Don't rush me, Mom."
Is there any way I can get her to hurry up and think seriously of marrying and settling down? I am 50 years old and would like to see a few grandchildren before I leave this earth.

MINNEAPOLIS MOM
DEAR MOM: Many moms who have rushed their daughters into marriage see more of their grandchildren than they expect to. (They're raising them cause the marriage didn't work out.) If you're eager to see things hatch, settle down on a chicken farm.

DEAR ABBY: My husband keeps our receipts and bills in his dresser drawer. I needed one to refer to the other day, so I asked him if I could go into his drawer and get it, and he said yes.

As I was looking thru them I came across a small piece of paper with a long distance telephone number on it, and a girl's name under it. It's no one I know, and I can't remember hearing my husband mention her name.

My husband works in a garage, so it could be one of his customers. But why would he keep just that one?

Should I ask him about it, or keep quiet? I don't know what to think or do.

HURT AND WONDERING
DEAR HURT: Ask him. It beats guessing.

DEAR ABBY: It's amazing to me how seemingly good parents will buy such dangerous toys for their children. It's bad

Hong Kong Flu Expected To Be Mild This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government disease detective says Hong Kong flu probably will strike certain regions of the United States in the next few months, but a nationwide epidemic is unlikely.

The regional outbreaks could affect persons in as much as one-fourth of the country, said Dr. Michael Gregg of the National Center for Disease Control in Atlanta.

But there will "not be a big, nationwide epidemic like we had in 1968-1969...an epidemic that caused tens of thousands of excess deaths," Gregg said in a telephone interview.

"Chances are slightly better than 50-50 that we'll experience more than a quiet year as far as influenza is concerned and that we'll see some schools closed and absenteeism from 10 to 15 per cent in some factories," he added.

enough that toy manufacturers are permitted to put them on the market.

There was a fair here recently where double-barreled pop guns with strong springs and loose corks were sold. Every boy on our block got one except mine.

Once the corks were lost, the children would shoot rocks at each other.

Bows and arrows with rubber tips that came off easily were also sold.

Abby, please say something about these weapons and the accidents they can cause. So many children are blind in one or both eyes because of such "toys."

I can't keep my children from playing with their friends. All I can do is tell them to look the other way when fired upon.

IRATE IN DANVILLE, PA.
DEAR IRATE: You have also alerted other mothers (and children) to the danger by writing to me. Thanks!

DEAR ABBY: What happened to the letter you asked your readers to vote on?

CURIOUS IN ASHVILLE, N.C.
DEAR CURIOUS: I am still tabulating my responses. To date I have received over a half million pieces of mail on that one, and they're still coming in. Please be patient!

Reshetlyo Given LSH Promotion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Theodore Reshetlyo was promoted Thursday to superintendent of Lima State Hospital, Ohio's institution for the criminally insane.

Reshetlyo, a member of the staff for 18 years and clinical director since June, 1968, has been serving as acting superintendent since last March, when Dr. Gerald Wilson took a leave of absence due to illness which later forced his retirement.

The appointment was announced by Dr. Lowell Cunningham, commissioner of the Division of Psychiatric Criminology. It was approved by Dr. Kenneth Gaver, director-designate of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

"Dr. Reshetlyo has shown his mettle during some trying times through his continued leadership at Lima," said Gaver.

Gaver referred to several recent investigations of alleged mistreatment of inmates at the hospital. A grand jury returned indictments against 38 employees and former employees on charges ranging from torture to assault.

Reshetlyo received his medical training at the University of Graz in Austria and the University of Cracow in Poland and practiced in both countries before coming to the United States in 1949.

A naturalized citizen, he has been licensed in Ohio since 1952 and on the Lima State Hospital staff since 1953.

7 Post-Season Grid Tilts Slated By Smaller Schools

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
College football's heavyweights like Alabama, Nebraska, Oklahoma, LSU and the others are still in the tuneup stages for their post-season bowl dates, but the little guys are jumping right into action.

There are seven post-season clashes scheduled among the smaller schools this weekend and you can bet pro scout will be watching each of them closely.

In the Boardwalk Bowl at Atlantic City, N.J., for example, C. W. Post faces Delaware with a pair of Little All America players sharing the showcase.

Post has quarterback Gary Wichard at the helm of the offense and Delaware's attack depends largely on Gardy Kahoe, a halfback.

Wichard made The Associated Press Little All America by completing 145 of 271 passes for 2,287 yards and 23 touchdowns this season. Kahoe was named after leading the nation's small college rushers by averaging 121.6 yards per game. He also scored 23 TDs.

Post is 8-2 and Delaware, 9-1, is rated the No. 1 small college team in the nation. In other games Saturday, McNeese State places its unbeaten record of 9-0-1 on the line against Tennessee State.

Completing the schedule is the NAIA Division title game with Arkansas Tech, 12-0, playing Livingston, Ala., State, 9-1.

Meet The Braves

Doug Barnett (23) and Randy Knece (45) are members of the Logan Elm High School basketball team. Barnett, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lowery, Route 5, Knece, a junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Knece, Stoutsville.

Grier Jones Leads Bahama Classic

FREEPORT, G.B.I. (AP) — Grier Jones credited an improved mental attitude with helping him break out of a season-long slump this week.

Jones was six-under-par 65 for the first Thursday after carding a sterling, six-under-par 65 for the first round lead in the $10,000 Bahama Islands Open Golf Tournament, the last event on the pro schedule this year.

"My attitude was a little negative most of the year," said Jones, once a pro Rookie of the Year but a struggling also ran this season.

"I started expecting to hit bad shots, and when that's what you're expecting, that's what you'll do."

"So I just came out a couple of weeks ago and told myself I've got to work hard and have a better attitude. It's helped."

Jones, winner of only $26,000 this season and 78th on the money list, held a one-stroke lead over big George Archer and U.S. Ryder Cup star J.C. Stead, tied for second at 66.

Bert Yancey and 51-year-old Julius Boros were next at 67 with a group of four tied at 68. They were Curtis Sifford, who had a hole in one. Bruce Fleisher, George Johnson and Harry Toscano. Defending champion Doug Sanders was far back after a 75.

Most of the game's big names—Arnold Palmer, Jack

Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Billy Casper and Gary Player—skipped this national championship being played the 6,805-yard, par-71 Lucayan Country Club course.

Frank Pitts Has Faith In Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Pitts, who was in two Super Bowl games while playing for the Kansas City Chiefs, says there is a strong possibility that the Cleveland Browns "could go all the way" this year.

"Anything can happen when a club gets in the playoffs," the Browns' wide receiver said Thursday. "I believe we're really beginning to put it all together."

Cleveland acquired Pitts from the Chiefs in a third-round draft choice which looks at this point to be one of the best trades the Browns have made in the past few years.

He is a fine pass receiver and a dangerous kickoff return man and has fit smoothly into the Browns squad.

HE LANDED RIGHT SIDE UP — No, that's not a novice skier going for a flip. It's Dan Genge, ski school director at the Don Valley Ski Center in Toronto, who did the flip on purpose as less-proficient skiers watched in awe.

Worst Basketball Teams Fated In 'Bottom 20' Poll

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The nation's worst college basketball teams now have their own poll.

University of Toledo senior Terry King, in a takeoff on The Associated Press Top Twenty ratings, puts out weekly what he calls the Bottom Twenty.

To get the venture off the ground, hometown psychology major King and 36 friends, mainly students, have formed National Sports Rating Service.

"The country more and more has become enchanted with people down and out," King explained. "I thought it could be extended to a negative basketball poll."

King says size of the school, number of scholarships, quality of opposition and a team's basketball history all enter his ratings picture.

"A school, say, in the Big Ten would be expected to field a team superior to a small independent," King said.

"If the Big Ten team had a similar record against similar opposition it could expect to see its team rated lower, or higher in this case, in the poll," he said.

The dubious distinction of being the worst team this week went to Stanford.

"Give me the rest of your top ten this week," a writer asked. "It's the bottom ten," insisted King, who graduates today.

"Bottom ten, excuse me," apologized the writer.

Behind, or ahead of, Stanford were Yale, Colorado, Arizona, Georgia, San Jose State, Northwestern, Rice, Clemson and Bowling Green in order.

The next ten were Nebraska, Army, VMI, Richmond, Chicago Loyola, Brown, Gettysburg, Xavier of Ohio, Arkansas and Wisconsin.

How does King, a parttime worker at a Toledo hospital, pay for the poll, which he offers for nothing?

"A few stamps and the Toledo Blade don't cost me much. My girl friend types it up. I use a photostate machine at the hospital," King explained. "Economy is all I live on," he said, "which is only fitting with the kind of poll I run."

Grid Forecaster Sees 3 Titles Clinched

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Miami, Minnesota, Kansas City.

That's the parlay for this weekend in the National Football League with all three clinching division titles and playoff berths, it says here.

The Dolphins, 9-2-1 in American Conference East, can clinch with a victory over runner-up Baltimore, 9-3. The Vikings, 9-3, can clinch in NFC Central with a victory over runner-up Detroit, 7-4-1. Both games are Saturday.

Sunday, it's the Chiefs and Raiders at it again with Kansas City, 8-3-1, in position to clinch with a victory over runner-up Oakland, 7-3-2.

But remember the guy who's telling you all this had a 5-7-1 record last week. Any way, here we go again:

Miami 24, Baltimore 17—Don Shula, former Baltimore coach now at the Miami helm, gets his revenge. Shula is a motivator and the Dolphins will motivate the Colts all over the field with Griese, Csonka, Warfield and Co. getting the job done offensively.

Minnesota 17, Detroit 7—The Vikings still have Carl Eller and Alan Page and that's what wins for them. Who the quarterback will be is Coach Bud Grant's guess but when Eller and Page are right it probably could even be Grant.

Kansas City 28, Oakland 17—The Raiders appear to be second-guessing quarterback Darle Lamonia again, and that's never good. Besides, they have to stop the Len Dawson-Otis Taylor passing combination, and that has been extremely difficult to do.

Dallas 35, New York Giants 10—The Cowboys are rolling now with six straight victories since Roger Staubach took over at quarterback. The Giants have only one weapon—Fran Tarkenton's passes to tight end Bob Tucker. Not enough.

Local Hunters Bag Two Deer

Gary Bigham, 138 Nicholas Drive, and Forrest Moore, Route 1, had successful hunting trips and both men returned home with a deer.

Bigham bagged an eight-pointer while hunting in Muskingum County for the second year in a row.

Moore took his kill in Jackson while hunting in a party of six. Two other deer were taken by the party.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

When a sports star is at his peak his name becomes a household word and his fame spreads far and wide but once he comes to the end of the line he fades from view and it becomes "The King Is Dead, Long Live The King".

His bright light begins to dim and the current which made him electric to the fans begins to flutter and sputter and the spark suddenly fades into oblivion.

The other day we ran across an article concerning former Cincinnati Red players and thought we would share the information.

Remember the Reds' two great pinch hitters, Smokey Burgess (1955-58) and Jerry Lynch (1957-63)?

Burgess owns an auto agency in Forrest City, N.C., and Lynch operates a golf course in Pittsburgh.

Gus Bell (1953-61) works for a car dealership in Cincinnati and Wally Post (1949-57, 60-63) operates a canning factory in St. Henry, Ohio. Joey Jay (1961-66) has oil wells in Spencer, W. Va.

Did anyone ever wonder what happened to the great Reds' pitchers, Johnny Vander Meer (1937-50) of double no-hit fame and the old sidestepper Ewell Blackwell?

Well, Vander Meer is in public relations for a brewery in Tampa, Fla., and Blackwell is sales manager for a distillery in Columbia, S. C.

Needless to say, both are reported to be in high spirits.

It brought back fond memories to us and hope it does the same for someone else.

As strange as it may sound, the Circleville "Piranha" team is getting back into the swim of things in preparation for another season.

Coach Jim Shea does a fine job with these youngsters who turn in performances that are a credit to the team and the community.

Interested youngsters may sign up 4 p.m. Sunday at the local YMCA on E. Franklin St. and practice gets underway Monday.

So to all the kids — Water you waiting for?

Our little gem of information — In case anyone thinks golf is a latter day sport, the golf course at St. Andrews in Scotland was built in 1552.

Our "fearless" forecast — The Tigers will scalp the Indians and outgun the Rangers . . . Westfall will "Beatty" the Shermans . . . The Braves will carry the war to the Warriors . . . Teays Valley will stop the Falcons . . . Don't say we didn't tell you that the Braves will sink the Vikings . . . The Browns will be devils against the Saints . . . The Bengals will "steel" a victory from Pittsburgh.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Ohio State, OU Battle Saturday

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Coaches Fred Taylor of fourth-ranked Ohio State and Jim Snyder of Ohio University are worried about their basketball teams' battle Saturday for different reasons.

Taylor, whose defending Big Ten champions carry a 3-0 record to Athens, says his Buckeyes need more offensive punch to go with a defense permitting only 57.5 points a game.

"Of course, when you start out scoring 60 points a game, there's room for improvement," said Taylor, referring to 63-55 and 68-57 victories last week over Georgia Tech and Oregon.

Settling on a starting unit is the main concern for Snyder, whose practices this week have been disrupted by final exams.

"We still haven't found our five best players. We haven't had enough opportunity to experiment yet," Snyder said. His team is 1-1.

While 7-foot Luke Witte averages 20 points as the No. 1 Ohio State scorer, the Bobcats counter with a balanced attack.

Four players are averaging in double figures. Bob Howell at 15.5 points, Tom Corde 13.0, Todd Lalich 12.5 and Denny Rusch 11.0.

The Bobcats have made it a habit of pestering Big Ten opposition, winning six of nine tests in the last eight seasons. Included in that span was an 83-80 decision at Ohio State in 1969.

However, the Buckeyes own a whopping 9-1 edge in the series between the two state schools.

The game is the feature of a 23-game schedule Saturday for Ohio colleges.

The Mid-American, however, has no conference games and the Ohio Conference only one, Kenyon at Wittenberg.

In other major contests, Miami visits Cincinnati, Xavier goes to Dayton, Ball State to Bowling Green and Cleveland State to Toledo.

Elsewhere, it is Urbana at Marietta, Mount Union at the Randolph Macon Tournament, Baldwin-Wallace at Virginia, Bethany at Muskingum, Carnegie Mellon at Denison, Otterbein at Florida Tech, Wooster at Calvin, Wilberforce at Cedarville, Ohio Northern at Oberlin, Bluffton at Ohio Dominican, John Carroll at Washington and Jefferson, Allegheny at Hiram, Ashland at Northwood, Ind., Tri-State at Central State, Wright State at Bellarmine, Gannon at Steubenville and Geneva at Youngstown State.

In Ohio college basketball action Thursday night, Marietta outlasted Ohio Conference foe Muskingum 94-88 in three overtimes.

After the score was deadlocked twice, guard Howard Ames kept Marietta alive by hitting a jump shot with 40 seconds left to play in the second overtime to tie it up again and then scoring a field goal and four straight free throws early in the final overtime to put Marietta ahead to stay.

Oberlin thrashed Carnegie Mellon 107-72 as senior Vic Guerrieri netted 43 points to tie his own single-game scoring record.

Circleville Tiger Wrestlers Open Season On Home Mats Saturday

Coach Brent Bell and his Circleville Tigers open the wrestling season 1 p.m. Saturday when they host

Tiger Frosh Rip Mt. Logan For Third Win

Circleville's freshmen trailed in the first half but came on like gangbusters in the last two periods to swarm over Chillicothe Mt. Logan, 53-42, Thursday on the latter's court.

The little Tigers were down 12-8 at the end of the first period but cut the margin to 23-22 at halftime.

They gained a 35-32 lead at the conclusion of the third canto and swept Chillicothe off the court in the final period.

Perry Hoskins had the hot hand for Circleville with 19 points, Tim McNaughton added 12, Pat McNaughton hooped 10, Dave Bevan had eight and Phil Roll swished the nets with four to account for the Tiger scoring.

HITCHENS pounded the rim for 19 markers to lead Chillicothe. He tallied 15 in the first half but Coach Darryl Young and his little Tigers defended him in the second half, holding him to two buckets.

Circleville is now 3-0 for the season and will be at Amanda Clearcreek Monday.

Junior High Drops Tilt To Chillicothe

A height disadvantage was too much for Circleville's Junior High squad to overcome as they dropped a 55-45 decision to Chillicothe Mt. Logan Thursday at the Mill St. gym.

Mt. Logan had two boys in the 6-foot-3 range and although the Circleville lads stayed with them for three periods but fell by the wayside in the final period.

At the end of the first period of play Circleville was behind 13-9 and left the court at half-time trailing 26-23. They cut the margin to 38-37 at the end of three periods but ran out of gas in the final canto.

Lawter paced Circleville with 13 points, Merrill Mancini and Moore all had eight, Bumgarner added six and Penn chipped in two for the Circleville juniors.

Manion was top man for Mt. Logan with 12 tallies.

Circleville is now 0-3, despite coming up with some fine efforts, and will travel to Washington C.H. Thursday.

Reynoldsburg and Westland at the high school gym.

Eight returning lettermen, including three district champions and one state runnerup, form the nucleus of the Red and Black squad.

Mark Davey is back and this spells trouble for Tiger opponents in the 185-pound class. The smooth operating grappler compiled a 25-2-1 record last year and was runnerup for the state title. One of the finest wrestlers in the state, Davey has to be considered one of the top prospects for his year's crown.

Dave Webb, 132-pound Tiger, was 25-1 last season and was South Central Ohio League champion and well as taking district honors.

THE Tiger strongman, Tom Frericks, is back in the heavyweight class which adds power to the Tiger squad.

Jeff Harr, a two-year letterman and SCOL champion, will bolster the Tigers in the 126-pound class.

Other returning lettermen are Gary Mogan, 167-pound class; Phil Kasler, 119-pound class; Pete McDaniels, 112-pound division and John Walker in the 105-pound class.

Willie Ellison Leads NFL Offense Data

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Willie Ellison said all he wanted was the opportunity to carry the football regularly. For four seasons he got to play mainly when others were hurt.

He wasn't always patient about his reserve running back role with the Los Angeles Rams. He substituted himself into a game last year without the coaches' approval.

But in the fifth season in the National Football League the 26-year-old Ellison has broken into the starting backfield, finally shaking the typical assessment of a rookie given by a Rams coach in 1968—"When he gains experience, he'll be a real good one."

And the 6-foot-1, 200-pound running back from Texas Southern is The Associated Press offensive player of the week in the NFL. The choice was obvious after he set a single-game NFL rushing mark of 247 yards in a 45-28 victory Sunday over New Orleans.

Ellison, whose 26 carries included an 80-yard touchdown run, broke the mark of 243 yards set by Cookie Gilchrist of Buffalo against the New York Jets in 1963.

His season-long goal has been to gain 1,000 yards, and he needs only 71 to reach the plateau with two games remaining.

Starters for the Tigers will be Mark Scherer, 98-pound class; Steve Walters, 105-pound; McDaniel, 112-pound; Joe Smith, 119-pound; Harr, 126-pound; Webb, 132-pound; Roger Davis, 138-pound; Jim Payne, 145-pound; Eddy Richter, 155-pound; Mogan, 167-pound; Stuart Moore, 175-pound; Davey, 185-pound and Frericks, heavyweight.

Competition should be tough as there doesn't appear to be any soft spots on the schedule and the Tigers will have to be at their best in defense of their SCOL title.

"WE look for Wilmington and Miami Trace to be the biggest hurdle for us in the title race and the Top 8 meet at DeSales should be the outstanding meet of the year prior to the state tournament," Coach Bell stated.

House Eyes Retroactive Pay Boosts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is grappling with the question of whether to order retroactive payment of pay increases caught in the 90-day freeze.

The retroactive-pay issue dominated opening debate Thursday on legislation to extend President Nixon's economic control authority through April 30, 1973, and authorize the machinery he asked to administer Phase 2 of his anti-inflation program.

Up for debate today is a Republican-backed amendment requiring retroactive payment only when price increases, or tax increases in the case of teachers and other public employees, were tied to the previously negotiated pay hikes.

As submitted by the House Banking Committee, the bill would require retroactive payment of frozen increases unless they were found to be unreasonably inconsistent with general wage levels.

Rep. Joseph G. Minish, D-N.J., author of the committee proposition, argued that authorizing some retroactive payments and forbidding others would establish "a double standard which Congress cannot condone."

"This provision clears the air and puts an end to conflicting and ambiguous rulings," Minish said.

But Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois, chairman of the House Republican conference, said that, "if we allow for retroactivity in all cases, it would undo the effect of the freeze. It would create a ripple effect that would have a devastating effect on the economy."

Training Program For Teachers Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Education plans a training program to balance a surplus of teacher in one area and a shortage of industrial arts instructors in another.

Martin W. Essex, state superintendent of public instruction, said today that while a surplus of teachers in some areas exists, it does not extend to the area of industrial arts where 20 to 40 vacancies exist.

Here is the complete Tiger schedule:

Dec. 11 — Reynoldsburg and Westland

Dec. 18 — At Bishop Hartley Tournament

Jan. 8 — Columbus Central and Groveport

Jan. 15 — Wehrle and Miami Trace

Jan. 22 — At Licking Heights Tournament

Jan. 26 — At Bishop Ready, Bexley

Jan. 29 — At Franklin Heights, Watterson

Feb. 5 — Marysville and Newark

Feb. 12 — At DeSales Top 8 Tournament

Feb. 19 — SCOL Tournament

Feb. 26 — Sectional Tournament

Mar. 4 — District Tournament

Circleville's home meets will start at 1 p.m.

The Los Angeles Lakers have the whole town talking ... and the other National Basketball Association teams talking to themselves.

The Lakers continued to ride high Thursday night, winning their 19th straight game with a 124-111 decision over the Golden State Warriors.

Los Angeles now is one short of the NBA record for consecutive victories and get a chance to tie the Milwaukee's mark in tonight's contest against the Phoenix Suns.

The Suns' current eight-game winning streak has been buried in all the fuss over the amazing Laker drive—but they continued to play hot ball with a 135-115 triumph over the Atlanta Hawks Thursday night.

In the only other NBA game, the Detroit Pistons defeated the Chicago Bulls 110-107.

For the second night in a row, the Lakers' backcourt scored more than 70 points. Jerry West scored 38 and Gail Goodrich had 36 to help the Los Angeles cause.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AIP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Perry Como isn't on television much any more, so it was a treat Thursday night to have him strolling around, grinning benignly and, best of all, singing in that nice easy style of his.

"Perry Como's Winter Show" on NBC presented the singer in his happiest context: a holiday confection in which his particular chores were to sing a few songs in stage center and then sort of back off to enjoy the performances of his guests. The hour opened with a witty number, "I Can Almost Read Your Mind," whose lyrics posed—but never answered—all sorts of impertinent questions that ranged from Perry's age to the validity of guest star Mitzi Gaynor's blonde locks.

Art Carney—like Perry and Mitzi an infrequent television visitor these days—joined in a couple of comedy sketches. Most of his jokes were twisting the language like a Mr. Malaprop. The best sketch was one in which he portrayed a lunch wagon proprietor having a fight with his waitress, played by Miss Gaynor.

High point of the hour was a production number that looked like a Currier and Ives Christmas card. "Appointment With Destiny," broadcast on CBS at the same time, was an ambitious effort to dramatize the 1944 attempt on Adolf Hitler's life. The story of the plot to kill the German leader by members of his general staff was told by means of World War II news reel clips, narration and dramatization using actors in the principal roles.

It somehow failed to work, perhaps because it was a hybrid—neither documentary nor drama, but a bit of both. The subject matter was certainly dramatic. It was the real story, as narrator James Mason noted, of a plot to overthrow the Third Reich which failed because it was "inefficient and inept."

The program was meticulous, researched. Wherever possible, archive films were used. The company of actors went through their paces, whenever possible, where the real events took place. But reconstituting history presents problems. Actors, even when supplied with Hitler mustaches and German accents, disturb and divert the viewer when they appear between news reels showing the persons they are imitating.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The American Independent Party definitely will hold its national convention here next year, AIP presidential candidate Richard Kay said Thursday.

Kay made the statement after the Toledo Convention Bureau agreed to uphold its invitation to the party and he conferred with T. Coleman Andrews Jr., AIP national chairman.

Coleman earlier told convention officials in a telegram that the party would go elsewhere unless city officials approved Toledo as the convention site.

But Kay said Coleman told him in a telephone conversation Thursday that he had meant convention bureau officials, not city officials, and that the bureau's reaffirmation of its invitation settle the issue.

Mayor Harry Kessler has opposed plans for the convention here, saying the city does not have the financial resources to provide adequate protection for delegates and officials.

The Toledo Blade also has opposed the idea, saying editorially that the meeting "is almost bound to attract busloads of protestors and anti-Wallace groups with all the potential of a full-scale riot."

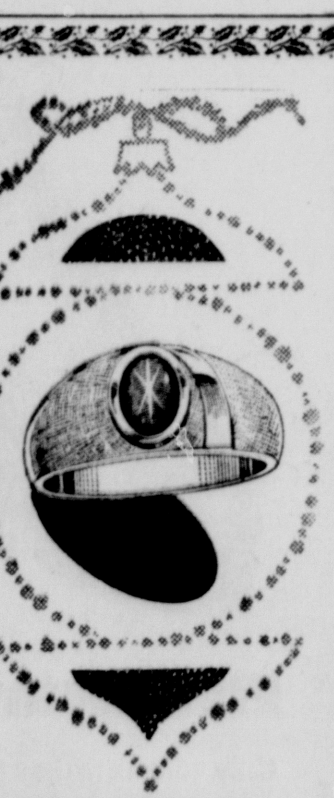

Gov. George Wallace of Alabama is head of the party and was its candidate for president in 1968.

Local Nurses Trained By Heart Chapter

A two week Intensive Coronary Care Training Program for Nurses was held at the Grant Hospital School of Nursing, Columbus, Dec. 1-12.

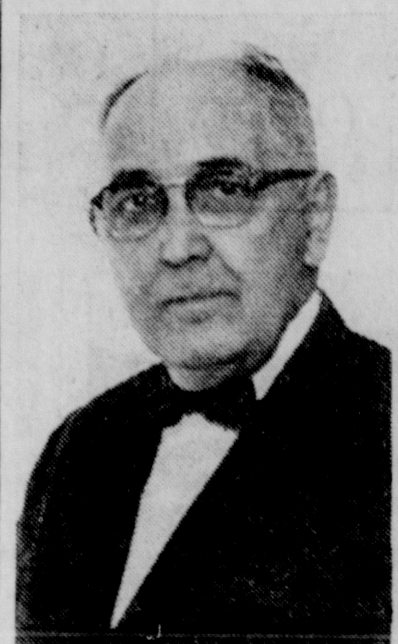

Attending from Circleville were Tonya Glanton and Margaret Parker, both from Berger Hospital.

Sponsored by the Central Ohio Heart Chapter (COHC), the program is designed to train nurses in using coronary equipment to care for coronary hospital patients. It offers guidelines for operating and utilizing the various visual aids and training equipment available for loan by the COHC training project. To participate in the project the nurses must either be presently working in a coronary care unit (CCU) or must be committed to working in a CCU upon completion of their training.

Mrs. Mary C. Tompkins, R.N., conducted the session, which was attended by 16 Central Ohio area nurses. Mrs. Tompkins is the director of the CCU training programs for COHC. She also serves on the Ohio Committee of the National Council of Cardiovascular Nurses. Lecturing on the CCU were Drs. Alan G. Weinberh, Ralph D. Lach and Alan E. Sheline of Columbus. Drs. George Morrice, Henry L. Hook and Cecil Michael Thorne of Newark conducted the program for one day during the two week period when the nurses traveled to the Licking County Memorial Hospital in Newark for lectures.

The next workshop will be held at Grant Hospital, May 1-12, 1972. All nurses training for coronary care units are invited to attend. There is no charge for nurses working and living in the 47-county COHC area.
